Characters

And how we learn more about their stories....
Take a look at all of these wrestlers.

Now, take the time to REALLY look at them. Everything they wear, their body language, and facial expressions are all clues about their characters. What do you notice about each one? As you look at them, create a word bank of adjectives that really show who they are instead of just telling. See how descriptive you can get!